European Convention on Human Rights

In accordance with the provisions of Article 16 of the Human Rights (Jersey) Law 2000, the Minister for Treasury and Resources has made the following statement –

Signed: Senator A.J.H.M. Maclean
Minister for Treasury and Resources

Dated: 26th October 2026

REPORT

The Draft Finance (2027 Budget) (Jersey) Law 202- (the “2027 Finance Law”) gives effect to the revenue measures in the Proposed Budget \(Government Plan\) 2027-2030 \(P.73/2026\). It also provides for administrative and technical tax amendments, which are set out in Appendix 4 of the Proposed Budget 2027-2030.

The 2027 Finance Law amends:

- the Income Tax \(Jersey\) Law 1961 (the “Income Tax Law”)
- the Customs and Excise \(Jersey\) Law 1999 (the “Customs Law”)
- the Goods and Services Tax \(Jersey\) Law 2007 (the “GST Law”)
- the Stamp Duties and Fees \(Jersey\) Law 1998 (the “Stamp Duty Law”)
- the Taxation \(Land Transactions\) \(Jersey\) Law 2009 (the “LTT Law”)
- the Taxation \(Enveloped Property Transactions\) \(Jersey\) Law 2022 (the “EPTT Law”)
- the Revenue Administration \(Jersey\) Law 2019 (“the RAL”)
- the Goods and Services Tax \(International Services Entities\) \(Jersey\) Regulations 2008
- the Multinational Corporate Income Tax \(Jersey\) Law 2025 (the “MCIT Law”)
- the Multinational Taxation \(Global Anti-Base Erosion – IIR Tax\) \(Jersey\) Law 2025 (the “IIR Law”)

The standard rate of income tax

1. Article 1 sets the standard rate of income tax for 2027 at 20%.

Personal tax thresholds (Articles 9-12)

2. The long-standing policy is to increase the income tax thresholds by the lower of June RPI and average earnings. For 2027, personal income tax thresholds and allowances are increased by 2.8%, in-line with RPI for June 2026.
3. The low-income threshold is increased to £21,850. Child allowance is increased to £4,050 and the additional personal allowance in respect of children is increased to £6,050.
4. The maximum childcare tax relief is increased to £8,300 for children under 12 and £21,550 in respect of under-4s.
5. The benefits to taxpayers as a result of these increases are set out on page 38 of the Proposed Budget 2027-2030.

Time to Win (Articles 5–8 and 68)

6. To reduce the administrative burden on businesses, the corporate tax reporting threshold for Jersey share ownerships with respect to specified profits is increased from 2% to 5%. The increase in the threshold will reduce the cost for certain companies complying with their annual filing obligations.
7. International Services Entity fees for managed entities that are also fund managers and managed managers that are also fund managers are reduced from £4,700 to £950 annually. This aligns with the commitment to simplify the ISE regime.

Customs warehouses (Articles 19–25)

8. Investors are increasingly interested in holding tangible assets such as gold bullion as a store of value during periods of geopolitical uncertainty. To support Jersey's wealth management and private client services in responding to this demand, the 2027 Finance Law introduces customs warehouses into the Customs and Excise \(Jersey\) Law 1999.
9. This measure broadens existing provisions on approved premises to allow eligible goods to be stored under customs supervision for an unlimited period and to change ownership within the facility, with no import duty or GST becoming payable unless released into free circulation. Warehouses must be authorised by the Agent of the Impôts. Eligible goods will be set by the Minister of Treasury and Resources by Order.

Customs and excise duties (Articles 26–40)Alcohol

10. Excise duty on alcohol is increased in line with inflation (2.8%) to limit erosion in its real value over time. The annual maximum production limit for small distillers is increased from 20,000 litres to 30,000 litres.

Tobacco

11. Tobacco duties are increased 5pp above inflation (and 8pp above inflation for cigars) in line with the Government's health policy to reduce tobacco consumption and related harm. Duty on cigarettes and rolling tobacco increases by 7.8% while duty on cigars increases by 10.8% to continue to close the duty gap between cigars and other types of tobacco.

Vehicle Emissions Duty (VED)

12. VED for all vehicles is increased by inflation (2.8%) to prevent erosion of its real value over time.

Reduction in Stamp Duty higher rate (Articles 47–53)

13. For 2026, the higher rate of Stamp Duty, Land Transactions Tax (LTT) and Enveloped Property Transactions Tax (EPTT) was reduced from 3-percentage points to 2-percentage points above the standard rate. This reduction is kept in place for 2027.
14. A provision to enable the Comptroller to reduce or remit EPTT where it is just to do so is inserted. This mirrors the provisions already in place for Stamp Duty and LTT.

Technical and administrative amendments

15. Article 17A of the Income Tax Law is amended by Article 3 of the 2027 Finance Law to ensure that late filing penalties charged against a spouse or partner may be waived if late filing was caused by the behaviour of the other spouse or partner.
16. Similarly, Article 45 of the 2027 Finance Law amends the civil penalty provisions in the Revenue Administration (Jersey) Law to ensure penalties can be applied to either or both spouses when an incorrect joint return has been filed.
17. Article 99 of the Income Tax Law, which provides for the compensatory allowance, is amended by Article 13 of the 2027 Finance Law to ensure that information provided by one spouse or partner may be used to calculate any compensatory allowance due to the other spouse or partner.
18. The 90-day lead in times to register and vary a group registration for GST are removed by Article 43 of the 2027 Finance Law.

19. The GST Law currently exempts certain medical supplies by referring to a service or goods provided by individuals registered to practice under various health care registration laws. Those laws, including the Health Care \(Registration\) \(Jersey\) Law 1995 will be repealed in 2027 and replaced with the Health and Social Care Professionals Register (Jersey) Law 2026. Ahead of the enactment of the new Health and Social Registration Law, Article 70 of the 2027 Finance Law amends the GST Law to ensure the closest possible alignment and consistency of GST treatment.
20. Articles 135A and 135B of the Income Tax Law are updated by Articles 16 and 17 of the 2027 Finance Law, following the adoption of the Control of Housing and Work \(Residential and Employment Status\) \(Jersey\) Regulations 2025. A corresponding change is also made to the Income Tax \(Prescribed Limit and Rate\) \(Jersey\) Regulations 2013 by Article 69 of the 2027 Finance Law.
21. The provision to appeal a default assessment made by the Comptroller is removed by Article 4 of the 2027 Finance Law in cases where an employer has not filed a return. The remedy available to employer is to file a return. The ability to appeal a filed return remains unchanged. This approach aligns with provisions for all other types of tax return.
22. The Order-making power under Article 115, enabling the Minister to exempt, by Order, named entities from income tax, is expanded by Article 14 of the 2027 Finance Law to include types or classes of entity.

MCIT Law changes (Articles 54–61)

23. The MCIT Law is amended by Article 56 of the 2027 Finance Law to exclude Jersey Property Unit Trusts from the definition of a Jersey constituent entity. This is an administrative easement which gives legislative effect to the treatment already set out in technical guidance.
24. The MCIT Law is amended by Article 58 of the 2027 Finance Law to introduce a tax incentive for Pillar Two groups (the RegTech Super-deduction: 150% of certain digital expenses). This incentive is already available to groups under the Income Tax Law. The incentive is intended to qualify as a qualified tax incentive (QTI) under Pillar Two rules and is effective from fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2026.

Income Inclusion Rule (IIR) Law changes (Articles 62–67)

25. The IIR Law is updated to implement the Side-by-Side Safe Harbour for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2026. Where an MNE Group's ultimate parent entity is located in a qualifying Side-by-Side jurisdiction (currently only the United States), the group will not be required to calculate or pay Jersey IIR tax or meet the associated notification and filing requirements.
26. The IIR Law is updated to implement safe harbours introduced under the latest OECD guidance for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2026. Safe harbours are administrative easements and include the substance-based tax incentive safe harbour and the simplified effective tax rate safe harbour.

Commencement

27. The 2027 Finance Law will come into force on 1 January 2027, other than Article 70, which comes into force when the Health and Social Care Professionals Register (Jersey) Law comes into force.
28. The Minister will present an Acte Opératoire following the third reading of the 2027 Finance Law.

29. The Side-by-side safe harbour implemented in the IIR and MCIT Laws will come into force retroactively from 1 January 2026. The QTI will also come into force from this date to enable utilisation of the associated safe harbour in the Side-by-side package.

Financial and manpower implications

30. The financial and manpower implications of the 2027 Finance Law are identified in the Proposed Budget 2027-2030.

Children's Right Impact Assessment

31. A Children's Rights Impact Assessment (CRIA) has not been prepared in relation to this proposition as a CRIA is not required, in accordance with Schedule 2 to the Children \(Convention Rights\) \(Jersey\) Law 2022.

Human Rights

The notes on the human rights aspects of the draft Law in the Appendix have been prepared by the Law Officers' Department and are included for the information of States Members. They are not, and should not be taken as, legal advice.

APPENDIX TO REPORTHuman Rights Notes on the draft Finance (2027 Budget) (Jersey) Law 202-

These Notes have been prepared in respect of the draft Finance (2027 Budget) (Jersey) Law 202- (the “draft Law”) by the Law Officers’ Department. They summarise the principal human rights issues arising from the contents of the draft Law and explain why, in the Law Officers’ opinion, the draft Law is compatible with the European Convention on Human Rights (“ECHR”).

These notes are included for the information of States Members. They are not, and should not be taken as, legal advice.

The draft Law sets the standard rate for income tax for 2027 and amends the Income Tax (Jersey) Law 1961 (“the ITL”), the Customs and Excise (Jersey) Law 1999 (“the CE Law”), the Goods and Services Tax (Jersey) Law 2007 (“the GST Law”), the Revenue Administration (Jersey) Law 2019 (“the RAL”), the Stamp Duties and Fees (Jersey) Law 1998 (“the SD Law”), the Taxation (Land Transactions) (Jersey) Law 2009 (“the LTT Law”), the Taxation (Enveloped Property Transactions) (Jersey) Law 2022 (“the EPT Law”), the Multinational Corporate Income Tax (Jersey) Law 2025 (“the MCIT Law”), the Multinational Taxation (Global Anti-Base Erosion – IIR Tax) (Jersey) Law 2025 (“the IIR Law”), the Goods and Services Tax (International Services Entities) (Jersey) Regulations 2008 (“the GST Regulations”), the Income Tax (Prescribed Limit and Rate) (Jersey) Regulations 2013 (“the ITL Regulations”) and the Health and Social Care Professionals Register (Jersey) Law 2026.

Three articles under the ECHR have been identified as being engaged by the draft Law, Article 1 of the First Protocol, Article 6 and Article 8. These are dealt with in turn below.

The draft Law engages Article 1 of the First Protocol to the ECHR (“A1P1”), which provides for the right to the peaceful enjoyment of property.

Revenue raising measures and economic regulation will in principle engage A1P1 and the draft Law does this principally by setting the rates of income tax and increasing excise duties.

A1P1 is however a qualified right, and the Protocol explicitly provides that the right does not in any way impair the right of the State to enforce such laws as it deems necessary to control the use for property in accordance with the general interest or to secure the payment of taxes or other contributions. Contracting States are given a wide margin of appreciation to determine what it considers in the public interest in this respect.

The European Court of Human Rights has made clear that the purpose of A1P1 is primarily to guard against the arbitrary confiscation of property. None of the provisions are considered to amount to arbitrary confiscation and so it is only in the event that they are “manifestly unreasonable” that they would be in breach of A1P1. The measures included in the draft Law that engage A1P1 are standard provisions under the annual Finance Law and ones of general application directed to the raising and protection of public revenues, a legitimate public interest.

Overall, the provisions are considered to fall within the margin of appreciation afforded to contracting states and to achieve a fair balance between private property rights and the public interest. The provisions of the draft Law are therefore considered to be compliant with A1P1.

The draft Law also engages Article 6 of the ECHR, the right to a fair trial as it:

- (i) creates two new criminal offences under the CE Law with respect to customs warehousing;

- (ii) extends the scope for the Agent of the Impôts to levy a penalty in lieu of referring a matter for prosecution; and
- (iii) makes specific provision for applying civil penalties where returns are made jointly.

The two new criminal offences under the CE Law mirror offences (and the corresponding penalties which attach to them) already under that Law, in particular articles 15 and 17. The offences require prosecution in the ordinary way which is considered sufficient for the purposes of Article 6.

The provision giving the Agent of the Impôts a power to levy a penalty instead of referring a matter for prosecution is an extension of an existing power under the CE Law. It is considered likely that this provision will amount to a waiver of a person's Article 6 rights as acceptance of the penalty is voluntary so a person can insist on prosecution in the ordinary way. It is noted furthermore that the existence of this power is highlighted in the extant Terms and Conditions that Jersey Customs uses. This inclusion assists in enabling that power to be considered fully by persons who may be affected by it. In any event, any decision to levy a penalty would be susceptible to a challenge by way of judicial review. This measure is therefore considered to be compatible with Article 6.

The new civil penalty provisions under the RAL do not amend the level of penalties that may be applied, rather they concern the allocation of the penalty in the circumstances of joint filing. Any penalties applied pursuant to this new provision would be subject to appeal to the Commissioners of Appeal in the ordinary way (under Article 14 of the RAL) which is considered sufficient for Article 6 purposes.

Finally, the draft Law engages Article 8 of the ECHR which provides for the right to respect for private and family life. It does this by requiring the provision of information, including information about ownership of goods, to be provided to the Agent of the Impôts with respect to customs warehouses.

Article 8 is however a qualified right, and it provides that interferences may be permitted where those interferences are sufficiently justified and proportionate. It expressly includes "economic wellbeing" and "prevention of disorder and crime" as being such justifications.

Any interference with Article 8 here is readily justified. The information sought is required for customs supervision, protection of the revenue and the prevention of crime, all of which are legitimate public interests. Furthermore, where persons elect to use the customs warehousing regime, they do so subject to its disclosure requirements and arguably on a voluntary basis. Any interference with Article 8 is in any event minimal, proportionate to the legitimate aims pursued and accordingly, compatible with Article 8.

Overall, the draft Law is considered compliant with the provisions of the ECHR.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

The draft Finance (2027 Budget) (Jersey) Law 202- will, if adopted, set the standard rate of income tax for 2027 and amend tax legislation for the purpose of implementing parts of the Budget 2027-2030.

PART 1

Part 1 (Article 1) provides that income tax is charged for 2027 at the standard rate of 20 pence in the pound.

PART 2

Part 2 (Articles 2 to 17) amends the Income Tax (Jersey) Law 1961 (the “1961 Law”).

Introduction

Article 2 states that Part 2 amends the 1961 Law.

Returns

Article 3 amends Article 17A of the 1961 Law to allow the Comptroller to waive a person’s liability for a penalty for delivering a joint return late if the Comptroller is satisfied that the delay was caused by the person’s partner.

Collections and repayments

Article 4 amends Article 41BB so that the cases where an employer may appeal the Comptroller’s estimate of the amount of deductions to be paid are limited to those where the estimate has been made because the Comptroller was not satisfied that the employer had paid the correct amount.

Schedule D

Articles 5 to 8 make amendments to Articles 77A, 81Q, 81X and 81Y so that the threshold for share ownership is increased from 2% to 5% for the purposes of applying Case IIA and Case IX.

Personal allowances and reliefs

Articles 9 to 13 increase the personal allowances and exemption thresholds.

Exemptions

Article 14 amends Article 115 to expand the power of the Minister to exempt entities that are directly or indirectly owned entirely by the States or a parish so that types and classes of entities can also be exempted.

Special provision for person granted 1(1)(k) housing consent or Entitled status under Regulation 2(1)(e)

Article 15 to 17 make amendments that reflect the replacement of the Control of Housing and Work (Residential and Employment Status) (Jersey) Regulations 2013 with the Control of Housing and Work (Residential and Employment Status) (Jersey) Regulations 2025.

PART 3

Part 3 (Articles 18 to 40) amends the Customs and Excise (Jersey) Law 1999 (the “Customs and Excise Law”).

Introduction

Article 18 states that Part 3 amends the Customs and Excise Law.

Customs warehouses

Articles 19 to 25 amend the Customs and Excise Law to allow for the approval and operation of customs warehouses.

Article 19 amends Article 1 of the Customs and Excise Law to insert a definition of “customs warehouse”.

Article 20 amends Article 15 to allow the Agent of the Impôts to approve premises as customs warehouses and to add an offence of operating a customs warehouse without approval. The penalty for this offence is an unlimited fine. Article 20 also makes amendments to the non-exhaustive list of conditions that the Agent may include when granting approval for any approved premises, including a customs warehouse.

Article 21 inserts new Articles 16A and 16B. Article 16A states that duty is suspended while goods are in a customs warehouse and sets out when that duty becomes payable. Article 16B sets out the conditions for storing goods in a customs warehouse. The conditions include that the goods must be goods prescribed by the Minister for Treasury and Resources by Order. The owners and depositors of goods must declare the goods in a manner directed by the Agent of the Impôts and the operator of the customs warehouse must provide all information required by the Agent relating to the ownership of the goods. A person who does not comply with the requirements of Article 16B commits an offence and is liable to a fine not more than the greater of 3 times the value of the goods or level 2 (£1,000) on the standard scale. Goods may be forfeited if the offence is committed by their owner.

Article 22 amends Article 31 (which relates to the sale of unlawfully imported or uncleared goods) so that it does not apply to goods stored in a customs warehouse if the Agent of the Impôts is satisfied duty does not need to be paid before goods are sold, disposed of or transferred.

Article 23 substitutes Article 65 which allows the Agent of the Impôts to levy a penalty instead of referring a matter for prosecution. The substituted Article applies to all offences under the Customs and Excise Law. As now, the Attorney General must be notified in all cases and retains the right to prosecute despite the decision of the Agent.

Article 24 makes amendments to Article 68 which deals with the review of decisions to set out paragraph (1) in a clearer way.

Article 25 inserts a new Article 73B which allows the Minister to prescribe fees, by Order, in connection with approvals.

Excise duty: alcohol – interpretation

Article 26 amends the definition of “small independent distiller” in Schedule 1 of the Customs and Excise Law to increase the amount of alcohol that may be distilled in a calendar year from 20,000 litres to 30,000 litres.

Excise duty: alcohol that does not qualify for tap relief

Articles 27 to 31 increase the amount of duty payable on alcohol that does not qualify for tap relief.

Excise duty: alcohol qualifying for tap relief

Articles 32 to 36 increase the amount of duty payable on alcohol that qualifies for tap relief.

Excise duty: tobacco

Article 37 increases the amount of duty payable on tobacco.

Excise duty vehicles

Articles 38 to 40 increase the amount of duty payable on vehicles.

PART 4

Part 4 (Articles 41 to 43) amends the Goods and Services Tax (Jersey) Law 2007 (“the GST Law”).

Article 41 states that Part 4 amends the GST Law.

Article 42 makes an amendment consequential on the introduction of customs warehouses to clarify that GST is not charged on goods that are stored in a customs warehouse.

Article 43 amends paragraphs 13 and 15 of Schedule 1 to remove the requirement that an application for the registration, or a variation of the registration, of a group is made within 90 days.

PART 5

Part 5 (Articles 44 to 46) amends the Revenue Administration (Jersey) Law 2019.

Article 44 states that Part 5 amends the Revenue Administration (Jersey) Law 2019.

Article 45 inserts a new Article 11A to set out how penalties work for income tax if a joint return is made.

Article 46 makes an amendment to Article 12(3) to remove unnecessary words.

PART 6

Part 6 (Article 47) amends the Stamp Duties and Fees (Jersey) Law 1998 to reduce the rates of stamp duty payable on second homes to the level that temporarily applied for 2026. It also removes the provisions that contained those temporary provisions.

PART 7

Part 7 (Article 48) amends the Taxation (Land Transactions) (Jersey) Law 2009 to make similar amendments to those made in relation to stamp duty to reduce the land transaction tax payable on second homes.

PART 8

Part 8 (Articles 49 to 53) amends the Taxation (Enveloped Property Transactions) (Jersey) Law 2022.

Article 49 states that Part 8 amends the Taxation (Enveloped Property Transactions) (Jersey) Law 2022.

Articles 50, 52 and 53 make similar amendments those made in relation to stamp duty and land transaction tax on second homes.

Article 51 inserts a new Article 13A to allow the Comptroller to reduce or remit the amount of tax.

PART 9

Part 9 (Articles 54 to 61) amends the Multinational Corporate Income Tax (Jersey) Law 2025 (the “MCIT Law”).

Article 54 states that this Part amends the MCIT Law.

Article 55 amends Article 1. The amendments update the definition of “OECD commentary” to refer to the latest published edition of the commentary. They also insert a definition of “QTI amount”.

Article 56 amends Article 7, which makes provision about the meaning of “Jersey constituent entity”. The effect of the amendment is to exclude Jersey property unit trusts (as defined in the inserted paragraph (3) of Article 7) from being Jersey constituent entities in relation to a multinational enterprise group (“MNE group”). The result is that the income of those entities is not taken into account for the purposes of calculating the amount of multinational corporate income tax charged on the MNE group (regardless of whether they fall within one of the other excluded categories of entity in Article 7 of the MCIT Law).

Article 57 amends Article 12, which sets out the steps for calculating an MNE group’s “MCIT net GloBE income”, which is the figure that forms the basis of the calculation of the charge to multinational corporate income tax. The amendment provides for an additional deduction to be made at the last stage of the calculation, in relation to fiscal years (as defined in the MCIT Law) beginning on or after 1 January 2026. The amount deducted is the group’s “QTI amount”, which is defined in new Article 13A of the MCIT Law.

Article 58 inserts a new Article 13A. The new Article provides that an MNE group’s QTI amount is an amount, which must not exceed 50% of the group’s “Jersey regulatory compliance expenditure”, claimed in respect of the group. “Jersey regulatory compliance expenditure” is defined in paragraph (2) of the new Article. Paragraph (3) of the new Article provides that the deduction in respect of the QTI amount is in addition to any deduction made in respect of an entity’s regulatory compliance expenditure at an earlier stage in the calculation under Article 12 of the MCIT Law.

Article 59 amends Article 25. The effect of the amendment is to provide for a claim under the new Article 13A to be made in the return under Article 25.

Article 60 amends the heading to Part 7 of the MCIT Law, in consequence of the amendment made by Article 61 of this Law.

Article 61 inserts a new Article 40A. The new Article provides that the States may, by Regulations, make provision for qualified tax incentives, defined as deductions to be made for the purposes of determining an MNE group’s net GloBE income for a fiscal year.

PART 10

Part 10 (Articles 62 to 67) amends the Multinational Taxation (Global Anti-Base Erosion – IIR Tax) (Jersey) Law 2025 (the “IIR Law”).

Article 62 states that this Part amends the IIR Law.

Article 63 amends Article 1. The amendment updates the definition of “OECD commentary” to refer to the latest published edition of the commentary on the Model Rules.

Article 64 inserts a new Article 4A. This provides that certain provisions of the IIR Law, including the charge to tax, do not apply to MNE groups that are “SbS safe harbour MNE groups”. These groups are still subject to some of the administrative requirements of the IIR Law. “SbS safe harbour groups” are defined as groups where the ultimate parent entity is located in a jurisdiction that is listed as a qualified SbS regime in the central record published by the OECD. At the moment, the United States is the only jurisdiction listed in that record.

Article 65 inserts a new Article 7A. The new Article modifies Rule 8.2.1 of the Model Rules for fiscal years beginning on or after 1 January 2026. Rule 8.2 makes provision for MNE groups to elect for the “top-up tax” for a jurisdiction to be zero in certain circumstances (these jurisdictions are referred to as “safe harbour jurisdictions” in the Model Rules). The amount of top-up tax for a jurisdiction is relevant for the purposes of determining the amount of IIR tax payable in relation to the group under the IIR Law. The modifications to Rule 8.2.1 enable MNE groups to make elections by reference to new safe harbour arrangements as provided for in the most recent OECD commentary.

Articles 66 and 67 amend Articles 11 and 28, in consequence of the amendments made by Article 65 and 64, respectively.

PART 11

Part 11 (Articles 68 and 69) amends secondary legislation.

Article 68 amends the Goods and Services Tax (International Services Entities) (Jersey) Regulations 2008 to remove the separate fees payable by certain permitted managers and managed entities.

Article 69 amends the Income Tax (Prescribed Limit and Rate) (Jersey) Regulations 2013 to reflect the amendments made to Article 135A of the 1961 Law by Article 16 of this Law.

PART 12

Part 12 (Article 70) makes amendments that relate to the Health and Social Care Professionals Register (Jersey) Law 2026 (the “HSCP Law”). Article 70 amends Schedule 5 of the GST Law to exempt the supplies of services and goods by dental health professionals, optometrists and orthoptists. The amendment removes the exemption for the supply of services and goods by health care professionals who are not doctors, dentists, dental health professionals, opticians, optometrists or orthoptists.

PART 13

Part 13 (Articles 71 and 72) contain final provisions.

Article 71 gives the title of this Law.

Article 72 provides that the Law will come into force on 1 January 2027, apart from Article 70 which will come into force immediately after the HSCP Law.
