

Charges

I think charging is a good idea but so as not to put anyone in danger I think the patients should be triaged first then told if they should be treated at A&E or visit the doctor/pharmacy or out of hours doctor for a trial period to get everyone on board with the new system

If they insisted on being seen even though they have been told it's not a A&E situation then charge them .

Angela Le Bailly